The LightPage dashboard allows a user to manage their LightPage templates. Here a new template can be saved (for reposting later) as well as templates which can be deleted. LightPages have additional features than posts

Each row gives basic information of the template such as when it was created, short description, and text field with additional information.

An existing LightPage template can be deleted by swiping the row to the left and then clicking the "delete" button.

A new LightPage template can be created by clicking the "+" icon.

Publish

The user can publish a LightPage from here as well as save for later publishing or edit an exist LightPage template

Changes can be saved in the upper right. This gives the user the option to make changes to existing templates as well as saving a template without having to post immediately.

Location GPS coordinates for event location should come from picked location on map.

By clicking "share on Facebook" the app can allow you to post a link to the LightTribe app to Facebook with text such as "I just posted an event with the LightTribe app"

By clicking "publish" the app will publish the LightPage into the same queue as the posts but it will have different features

Side note: when clicking the url it should open in embedded Safari window.

Anonymous users can't post a LightPage

Topics are a multi select list with a maximum of 5 selections.

When class is chosen, the user doesn't need to pick a start time so hide that field.

This is the template for use with other screens.
